Master of Communications and Media Studies

Are you interested in a career in communications or media industries? But don't want to pay upfront fees for a Masters degree? Commonwealth-supported places (CSP, formerly HECS) part and full-time positions are available in the industry-focused 18-month Master of Communications and Media Studies degree at the National Centre for Australian Studies at Monash.

The course includes an industry project and the option of an international field trip, as well as a solid grounding in the field. Classes are offered in the city and at Caulfield campus.

We are looking for new candidates with an interest in communications and media who have completed a three-year bachelor degree in any field.
