

Drinking volunteers

Volunteers are sought for an RMIT study into men's drinking habits. The research is being conducted by psychology doctoral student, Enza De Pino, who is seeking 60 volunteers. Participants need to be men aged 18 to 35 and are required to attend five group sessions, comprising confidential questionnaires and group discussions. Participants will also be required to consume two pre-mixed drinks, which may or may not contain alcohol. All volunteers will be entered into a draw to win one of three $100 prizes.
