ARIES Passionate Arians will get angry after spending an obscene amount of money on a textbook written and prescribed by a lecturer to finance his new yacht.

TAURUS Philosophical Taureans will take a completely pointless subject in which they ponder the meaning of life. They will drop this subject after discovering that the answer can't be found, even on Wikipedia.

GEMINI Under creative Venus, feisty Geminis will write a column for a student political magazine. This will inevitably lead to having one obsessed fan, and a hundred items of hate mail.

CANCER The new Moon incites Cancers to detox from alcohol, and allows them to enjoy two whole days without a hangover.

LEO Stubborn Leos will start job hunting this month, after a fist fight with the chef ends their lucrative career as a waiter.

VIRGO A group project will go awry Virgos, when your German partner Sven gets deported for reasons that can't be divulged by ASIO.

LIBRA Unlucky Librans will experience extreme poverty this month after having to pay a library fine the size of a small mortgage. With interest.

SCORPIO Determined Scorpions decide to get some work experience in order to improve their resumes. Upon finding this too much hassle, they decide to sleep their way to the top instead, and find out that company CEOs are not nearly as attractive as they are depicted on TV.

SAGITTARIUS The second-hand book black-market proves lucrative for smart Sagittarians, until the power goes to their heads and culminates in a Sopranos-esque showdown with a rival seller.

CAPRICORN An overseas exchange is put in jeopardy when you discover the exotic European nation you were planning to study at doesn't actually exist.

AQUARIUS Indecisive Aquarians will change their subjects so many times that they end up not actually being enrolled in anything, which makes them no different from the vast majority of university socialists.

PISCES Under lusty Venus, Pisceans will meet their soul-mate while waiting in line for coffee at uni. They will have a long term relationship, break up twice and marry, all in the time it takes to receive their lattes.
