Would you have found it useful to read student reviews when you were choosing your university or college? Well now you can help future students make one of the most important decisions they'll ever make. We want to hear what you really think. Go to www.hotcourses.com.au and write your review.

The most informative one (positive or negative) will receive $500.

What you need to do:

Through the online review form at www.hotcourses.com.au you will be asked to rate six categories on a scale of 1 (poor) to 5 (awesome) and to give a few thoughts by way of explanation for your rating.

Your review does not necessarily have to be all positive, it just needs to be honest and helpful. So think what information future students will find most useful. What insider info have you got to share? What do you wish you knew then that you know now?

Read a few of the reviews that have already been submitted on www.hotcourses.com.au if you'd like a bit of inspiration.

To enter the competition for your chance to win $500 select 'Utimes' in the Student Ambassador field at the end of the review. The winning review will be displayed on the site September 1.
