

Travelling career

“Lessons you will not get from a book or web page”

Imagine living abroad for three months, six months, or even a year. Imagine making a life travelling abroad, a career skipping from country to country. The experiences you will have will be invaluable.

Just think of the people you will meet, the countryside you will see, the great cities of the world at your fingertips. You can taste exotic foods and experience cultures you have never experienced before.

A warning though, travelling overseas and living an exciting life is addictive.

Australasian Training Academy can equip you with the skills necessary to teach English overseas. With these valuable skills you can experience travel like you have never experienced before.

You don't have to be a teacher with years of experience. You just need to be an open minded person willing to experience a new culture and pass on the English language to those who are eager to learn it.

This is a chance to do something positive with your life, a chance to travel the world and become an ESL professional.

ATA's most popular program is the 120-hour Advanced TESOL Certificate program. This program continues to rapidly grow in popularity, and has gained worldwide respect and recognition. ATA have trained thousands of students in the past four years who have completed the programs. ATA points to the ever expanding number of schools and recruiters hiring their graduates.

“We offer excellent educational value and flexible study options and are successfully producing world-class English language teachers who are highly sought after internationally,” ATA says on its website.

“We also encourage overseas students being given the opportunity to intern in Australian thereby giving them the chance to practice their English speaking and listening skills in everyday business practice.

“Our trainers are the core of our college. They draw on many years of teaching experience in the ESL classroom and of life experiences living abroad.

“Their knowledge of the countries they have lived in, the schools they have taught at, the students they have met and their own style and flare in the classroom are all things they share with you in our training rooms. These experiences are valuable lessons that you will not get from a book or web page.”
