US summer camp

Summer Camp is a unique culture of America that we don't get to experience in Australia. At camp you work with American kids, teaching them things you are either skillful at or never thought you'd ever do

You meet amazing people from all over the world, and make friends for life. It gives you a chance to travel, and you get paid which is a bonus. I just love how at our camp you can be yourself and won't get judged, you can be silly and have fun as that is what camp is all about! Once you go to Camp you will be addicted and want to go back.

Pictured is a birthday at camp – beware though you might end up wearing your cake instead of eating it.

Beyond my wildest dreams

In February 2007, I stumbled across an advertisement to go to China and teach English. This led me to ATA TESOL College, where I completed my internationally accredited TESOL course. Shortly after I headed for Harbin, China. Teaching English to children in a private training school there, I was able to earn six times the local cost of living and had my accommodation provided (at no cost to me) by the school. ATA TESOL College will equip you with the training to teach conversational English in over 85 countries worldwide and our job placement support is free. No experience is required. Jobs guaranteed and conditions apply.
