Camp leaders

If you are at least 18 years old, available for nine weeks from June through till August, want a fun and rewarding experience, and love working with children, then working at a Summer Camp in the beautiful great outdoors of America is for you.

Working at Summer Camp is a great way for anyone to gain new skills and job experience. While you help the children grow and gain knowledge of your culture, you develop your own leadership and communication skills and leave knowing you have had a positive impact on the lives of many children.

Camp Leaders provides:

- Individual placement at an amazing American summer camp
- J1 visa documentation and processing assistance
- Three months comprehensive medical insurance
- Accommodation and three meals per day for the duration of your stay at camp
- Up to $1800 pocket money whilst at camp
- Financial flights assistance options
- Time to travel on your visa
- A life changing experience you will never forget

From New York to California – there are tons of positions available at so many different types of camps – they will find the right camp for you.

Camp America

Saying it loud and clear: Camp is a nine week adventure – it's fun, it's exciting and it may be the best trip you'll ever take. Since 1972 thousands of Aussies have participated on the Camp America program. The staff have been to camp so know exactly what anyone applying for the program goes through. The excitement, the jitters, the planning – they understand it all because they've been there. As the longest running US summer camp program provider in Australia they promise fantastic service and the support when you need it.

Teach English overseas

If the idea of travelling the world earning as you go appeals to you, then you should consider teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL). You'll get amazing opportunities to embrace local cultures and experience a world unknown to the average traveler.

Teaching overseas is also held in high regard by employers as it demonstrates initiative and independence, making you more employable when you get home.

The best thing about TEFL is that you don't need any prior teaching experience and you don't need to know the local language. With 20,000+ jobs advertised around the world every month, the world really is your oyster.

Global volunteer

Joe O'Neil is currently based at Scindia Boys School, Gwalior, near New Delhi in North-West India – his placement organized by Latitude Global Volunteering. He is helping out with English teaching, sports and also drama at the school – as well as having amazing experiences with the Indian culture and of course all the students.

Joe has a blog which he keeps updated with stories of his gap year. Joe's first entry shows one of his reasons to take a gap year "It's weird to know that in just over 40 hours I will be flying out of this country and beginning a journey that is sure to change my life."
