

Travelling to Europe?

Trains operate 365 days of the year with multiple services each day so you never have to wait long between trains. Also if you choose to travel on a rail pass (Eurail) you receive heaps of bonuses such as free travel on some major ferry lines and discounts at many hotels and museums. Don't spend half your trip waiting at the airport check in counters between European cities. There's nowhere better to meet locals and fellow travelers to swap ideas on the best places to party and explore. Youthrail.com.au provides all the information you need to plan and book your trip overseas.

Travellers bookstore

A place where your journey begins, with sharing plans and stories with other travelers, where you ponder possibilities; and learn about people, places, language and culture, and all that may enrich your journey. They stock guide books, travel writing, novels, history, politics, art and much more. They have maps, globes and children's books. They have regular events with writers, travelers and others. Subscribe to their email newsletter to receive up to date information on these and other news in the store including special discounts available to subscribers.
